- Use plain language in all our communications;
- Monitor performance against our targets for responding to feedback;
- Transparent and easy to follow process.
- Annually publish details of feedback received and actions taken.
- Ensure fair and equal access to Scomis services.

4. Complaints Process

We aim to deal with all feedback at the point of service delivery. If we make a mistake, we will apologise and endeavour to put things right. We may ask the customer to suggest what they would like us to do. We will always endeavour to put the customer back to the position they would have been in but for our mistake. We will learn from our mistakes to minimise the risk of them happening again.

Stage One – following receipt of any complaint or expression of dissatisfaction the nominated officer will determine at the outset whether it is an informal complaint or whether it should be upheld and treated as a formal complaint.

Stage Two – Informal complaints: These will be logged on to the Customer Management System and you will be telephoned within 3 working days to discuss your issues and be advised of any future actions.

Formal complaints: These will be logged on our Customer Management System and you will be sent an email acknowledgement within 3 working days that will include the name of the manager investigating and when you should receive your formal response. You will then receive an email within 10 working days containing the details of our final responses to your complaint.

Following the response to your complaint being issued, you will be contacted to discuss the details of our response. Should you not be satisfied with our response following stage two, you may request your complaint be escalated to the Head of Service who will acknowledge this within 3 working days. They will undertake a review of all relevant information and you will be advised of the outcome within 10 working days. In more complex cases where this could take longer we will keep you informed of progress and timescales.

If you are dissatisfied with any response following escalation of your complaint, you can contact the Local Government Ombudsmen:
