4. Details of the complaints procedure

Stage one

Following receipt of any complaint or expression of dissatisfaction the nominated officer will determine at the outset whether it is an informal complaint or whether it should be upheld and treated as a formal complaint.

Stage two

Informal complaints: These will be logged, and you will be contacted within three working days to discuss your issues and be advised of any future actions.

Formal complaints: These will be logged, and you will be sent an email acknowledgement within three working days that will include the name of the manager investigating and when you should receive your formal response.

You will then receive an email within ten working days containing the details of our final responses to your complaint. If we are not able to provide a response within 20 working days, the responding manager will update you on progress and let you know when a response can be expected.

Following the response to your complaint being issued, you will be contacted to discuss the details of the response. Should you not be satisfied with our response following stage two you may request your complaint be escalated to the Head of Service who will acknowledge this within three working days.

The Head of Service will undertake a review of all relevant information and you will be advised of the outcome within ten working days. In more complex cases where this could take longer, we will keep you informed of progress and timescales.

If you are dissatisfied with any response following escalation of your complaint you may contact the Local Government Ombudsman.
